

HEALTHWAY MEDICAL AND OUE LIPPO HEALTHCARE TO PARTNER
SK TELECOM AND SEOUL NATIONAL UNIVERSITY BUNDANG HOSPITAL ON SMART HEALTHCARE SOLUTIONS

HealthOn-G, a disease management solution for diabetic patients, is one of SKT's several innovative solutions that are redefining the healthcare industry.

Highlights:

- Healthway Medical and OUE Lippo Healthcare partner global industry leaders to explore opportunities to leverage on cutting-edge information and communications technologies (“ICT”) in healthcare applications.
- Areas of collaboration include hospital information systems, disease management solutions, tele-medicine, smart primary health centre and smart hospital solutions.

Tuesday, 14 November 2017, Singapore – Healthway Medical Corporation (“HMC”) and OUE Lippo Healthcare Limited (“OUELH”), both SGX Catalist Board-listed and member companies of Lippo Group (“Lippo”), today signed a non-binding Technical Collaboration Agreement (the “Agreement”) with SK Telecom Co., Ltd. (“SKT”), Seoul National University Bundang Hospital (“SNUBH”), and HealthConnect Co., Ltd. (“HCL”), to explore areas of collaboration to provide innovative healthcare solutions.

Mr. Lee Yi Shyan, Chairman of OUELH, said, “SK Telecom is a global leader in ICT innovations, while Seoul National University Bundang Hospital is the first paperless, totally digitalized hospital in South Korea. Partnering with these industry leaders puts us in good stead to enhance our market competitiveness, through the adoption of proven innovative healthcare ICT solutions that are redefining the healthcare industry.”

Mr. Abram Suhardiman, Chief Operating Officer of Healthway, who is leading innovation strategy at HMC, added, “Adopting healthcare ICT solutions will help us provide better care and more convenience to our patients and the communities that we serve, especially in the areas of chronic disease management and preventive wellness programmes. We look forward to working with our partners, as we strive to contribute to a healthier Singapore.”

Mr. Joonyun Kim, Senior Vice President of Healthcare Business Office, SK Telecom, said “Through the partnership with OUE Lippo Healthcare and Healthway, SK Telecom expects to bring innovative changes to the healthcare market in Singapore. Also, the application of its state-of-the-art ICT will enhance value and experience for patients and hospital workers, particularly HealthOn-G, a diabetes management solution which has acquired 3rd grade of medical device from South Korea’s Ministry of Food and Drug Safety, Patient Guide that enhances outpatient convenience and hospital work efficiency, and Smart Bedside Station that provides convenience for hospitalized patients.”

This multi-party collaboration with proven industry leaders reflects the strong commitment of HMC and OUELH to deliver the best quality of care to its patients. The focus on healthcare ICT is also in line with Singapore’s drive towards becoming a Smart Nation, by improving lives through technology.
